The Western Sydney Recovery College is looking to form a student advisory group, The Student Voice, which will help provide expert advice to support the development, delivery, monitoring, and evaluation of the Western Sydney Recovery College. The group will consist of consumers, carers, family members, community members, and mental health workers who are previous or current students of WSRC.

The group will meet once each term in Blacktown with the first meeting being in early 2018, and will form an important part of ensuring that the principles of recovery, collaboration, co-production, and co-learning are embodied and upheld at WSRC.

All members of The Student Voice will receive a monetary reimbursement for the time spent participating in the group.

If you'd like to know more about being a part of The Student Voice, please email the below information through to wsydrecoverycollege@onedoor.org.au
